Annual Report of the Department of Dakota.

THE POST CANTEEN SYSTEM.

Brigadier General Thomas H. Ruger Pronounces It Very Beneficial to the Soldiers—No Actual Campaign Service During the Past Year—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Brig. Gen. Thomas H. Ruger, in command of the department of the Dakota, states in his annual report that the post canteen system has been in operation long enough to afford a basis for conclusion as to its merits, and he pronounces the results beneficial.

The discipline of the commands under him are in a generally satisfactory condition, and special instruction in field operations has been given the troops at the several posts, and before the close of the fiscal year will have been given the troops at all the garrisons in the department. No events occurred during the past year calling for actual campaign operations, though the troops were sent to several points where Indian uprisings were threatened but were averted, Gen. Ruger states, by judicious counsel.

Gen. Ruger details the movements of the troops in his division, and in connection with the threatened Indian uprising on the Tongue river in April last, he commends Maj. Carroll, of the First cavalry for his judicious action in the matter, averting what at one time looked like a formidable Indian war.

Gen. Ruger gives as the total strength of the several garrisons under his command 302 officers and 3,663 enlisted men. The decrease in desertion of the men, he states, has been slight, but improvement in the future is looked for on account of recent legislation tending to afford men an opportunity to leave the service in an honest manner.

The President and Prisoners.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The president has commuted to six months' imprisonment the sentence of Mrs. Jennie Jones, convicted in Wisconsin for violation of postal laws and sentenced April 1 to one year's imprisonment in the house of correction.

In the case of Josie Talley, convicted in South Carolina of selling liquor without license, and sentenced to three months' imprisonment and a fine of $100. The president has remitted the fine.

The president has denied a pardon to W. E. Sypert, of Tennessee, convicted of forgery and fraud, and sentenced to the Albany penitentiary for seven years.

Comptroller's Report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—First Comptroller Matthews has submitted his annual report to the secretary of the treasury. The accounts of warrants received amounted to $589,997,228, while those for accounts and settlement aggregated $614,500,834. He recommends that some definite time be named when accounts against the government may be treated as settled.

Blaine Back in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Secretary of State Blaine retured home last evening from his speech-making trip. He was driven directly to his home and denied himself to callers. In company with Postmaster General Wanamaker he will leave Washington at 9:40 Saturday morning to attend the Union League reception in Philadelphia.

ONE DAY A WIFE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Houghwout Howe, of New York, whose marriage to Miss Mary Butterworth, the daughter of Representative Butterworth, of Ohio, took place at his bedside Wednesday, died in his room at the Metropolitan club at 1:15 yesterday afternoon.

For several hours after the wedding, Mr. Howe rested easily, but toward night he became delirious, and those in attendance were obliged to use force to prevent him from doing harm. This continued through the night. At times the sick man fancied he was on his wedding trip.

Yesterday morning an attempt was made to quiet him by an injection of morphine, and this operation was accomplished only after a struggle.

Mrs. Howe who, with Mrs. Roosa, Mrs. Howe's mother, and Dr. Magruder, had remained with him during the night, went to her home for breakfast, after her husband was quiet. She returned about 9:30 and remained at his bedside until the end. During her absence he had grown much worse, and his heart was failing rapidly. During the early morning the beating of the heart was so strong that it could be heard all over the room in which he lay and his breathing was stentorous and heavy.

About 10 o'clock the physicians decided that he could only live a few hours, and Mrs. Howe was so informed. From this time he grew gradually weaker, the action of the heart less regular, and at a quarter past 12 o'clock death came to him calmly and quickly.

Mrs. Howe, Dr. Roosa, Mr. Howe's stepfather, Mrs. Roosa, his mother, and Dr. Magruder were at the bedside when he died.

Going Out to See the Utes.

DENVER, Oct. 31.—Lieut. Johnson, of the Seventh infantry, stationed at Fort Logan, was yesterday sent to Routt county to investigate the threatened Ute Indian outbreak. He was accompanied by a detachment of troops.

[illegible] of the First Lost.

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—Governor Brackett has appointed Nov. 27 for Thanksgiving Day.

FLYING FRAGMENTS.

A New and Terrible Feature of the Tests at Annapolis.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The Times says: A serious question has arisen from the recent armor tests at Annapolis which affects the very life of the crews of modern battleships. It was found in the test that for a distance of 200 yards on each side of the armor plate a perfect hail of iron fragments was hurled every time a projectile took effect. In some instances the fragments of the armor plate weighed over a pound, while pieces of the size of a bullet and over could be picked up all over the testing ground.

The officers conducting the trial were compelled to take refuge under bombproof coverings, and even the gun had to be protected from injury by a mass of sand bags piled high about it. It was unsafe for a gunner to attempt to stand out in the open and fire his piece, consequently this work had to be performed by electricity. The fragments of iron were detached by the impact of the shell, the metal apparently being more brittle than soft. In the test at Annapolis the gun was twenty-eight feet from the armor plate, but it would seem that the same effect must be produced upon armor plate—at any rate upon compound armor—so long as it is within penetrating range.

The question of mortality among the crews of modern warships when in action has for some time been a mooted one, but the belief has been general that future naval engagements would present smaller casualty lists than in the past. The Annapolis armor tests now incline one to the very opposite view, for it is difficult to see how, under this murderous hail of iron, the open decks of protected cruisers or barbette battle-ships will be habitable. In the days of engagements between wooden ships 50 per cent. of the casualties were usually occasioned by splinters or fragments of timber torn from their fastenings by round shot or shell. It has been common for naval officers today to reckon that in future sea engagements at least one form of danger would be eliminated, namely, that from splinters. The Annapolis test shows that armor plating by itself will be the death of crews exposed on the open decks of barbette-citadel ships.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

Four Men Fatally Injured at Duncansville, Pa.

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 31.—A serious explosion occurred at the rolling mills of the Portage Iron company, located at Duncansville, seven miles south of Altoona. Shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday evening one of the three large boilers in the ten-inch mill exploded from an unknown cause and the reports could be plainly felt for miles around.

Those fatally injured are:

James Weaver, aged 18, badly scalded, skull fractured and cut about face.

Samuel Flick, fireman, 48 years, married, scalded about face and body.

William Miller, aged 30 years, married, badly scalded.

Theodore Orth, puddler, scalded and horribly mangled. Several others whose names are unknown were slightly scalded.

Extent of the Lottery Law.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Postmaster Van Cott makes the announcement that the act of congress excluding lottery matter from the mail prohibits not only the mailing of lottery tickets, circulars, etc., but also newspapers or other publications containing any advertisement of any lottery or gift enterprise of any kind offering prizes dependent upon chance; and furthermore that the law offices of the postoffice has decided that advertisements of European government bonds are held to come within the provisions of the law.

Rough Sea Voyage.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 31.—The British brig Venice has arrived, twenty-six days from Turks Island. When she passed Bermuda she encountered a series of gales which did not end till last Tuesday. Wednesday week off Montauk a terrific easterly hurricane drove her seven days off shore, splitting her sails. Friday, Oct. 24, in latitude 39.52 longitude 78.29, she passed a vessel's stern with wheel and cabin house. There was nothing to lead to identification.

A Disabled Steamship.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The British steamship Newfoundland, Capt. McGrath, arrived at this port to-day in a sinking condition. The Newfoundland is bound to Quebec from Norfolk with a cargo of coal. When 200 miles out from Sandy Hook, during a heavy gale the vessel sprung a leak. Her cargo will be discharged and the vessel placed in a dry dock.

Schooner in a Whirlwind.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 31.—A whirlwind from the northwest struck Narragansett bay off Cowesset last night. The schooner Maggie Cummins, from New York, which had discharged her cargo of corn, was sailing down the bay light. The whirlwind struck her and she turned side up, but did not sink. The crew narrowly escaped drowning.

Train Runs Into a Hotel.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Oct. 31.—A coal train on the Pennsylvania road ran on a misplaced switch at an early hour this morning and crashed through the hotel Brunswick, creating a panic among the guests, and landed in the yards of the Girard house and Jackson house. The loss to the railroad company's rolling stock is $25,000.

Destructive Floods in Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 31.—Reports continue to be received of damage by floods in the state of Jalasco. At Capotlan a number of houses were carried away by the floods. At Ameca, a village in Jalasco, a number of persons were drowned and several dwellings were carried away. At Tame-eup, fifty hours of rain, many houses were destroyed.

LABOR IN ENGLAND.

Serious Trouble Feared in the Near Future.

A BIG STRIKE IMMINENT.

The Shipping Federation Making Active Preparations for a Long and Bitter Strife Against Union Men—Various Other Dispatches From the Old World.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Special meetings of the Seamen's union branches were held yesterday in London, Liverpool, Bristol and Cardiff. The men are determined to make a fight to the last against the refusal of employers to discharge non-union men and they expect the sympathy and aid of the dockers' union in their struggle.

The Shipping Federation has been making active preparation for the strife and now has free labor offices open in all the principal cities and towns, at which many applications have been received for employment. Home Secretary Matthews has promised to see that the police do their duty in the event of any unlawful interference with non-union laborers.

Eleven unions, embracing 400,000 members, compose the new Dockers' Federation. The organization is complete in the matter of detail, and the discipline of the men is said by their leaders to be admirable. The Federation intends to raise a fund by levying an assessment of sixpence upon each member, and the proposition has been received by the men with a degree of enthusiasm, promising the speedy accumulation of a formidable financial bulwark against the assaults of the strikers in the event of a general revolt against the employers.

The grand struggle between the dockers and the shipowners is likely to begin in Liverpool instead of London, the Liverpool Shippers' association having refused to discharge non-union hands at the dictation of the union. The Employers' union there has received aid to the amount of £20,000 from London merchants interested in the Australian trade and the strikers have received from the London unions a sum aggregating a little more than one-third of that amount. A number of laborers have been prosecuted and fined for breaking their contracts in leaving their work without giving proper notice.

At a meeting of railway workers held in London yesterday it was stated that the union, since its formation, had succeeded in obtaining about £200,000 increase in wages for the railway men, but that the average pay of railway workers was still four pence an hour.

Further Particulars of the Battle.

ZANZIBAR, Oct. 31.—In the recent engagement between the British, under Admiral Freemantle, and the natives, which resulted in the capture and destruction of the African town of Vitu, 500 seamen and marines and 150 East Indian troops composed the storming party. Many of the natives were killed in the action. None of the British force was killed and but three wounded.

The Sultan of Vitu made no serious resistance to the destruction of his capital by the British, but retreated with his force to the interior. The English force was not large enough to spare an effective garrison and after burning the town the marines returned to the Boadicea. The sultan, it is reported, has made overtures for peace, but is not willing to surrender himself to be dealt with for the murder of Kuentzli and his fellow Germans.

Vessel Probably Lost.

VIENNA, Oct. 31.—The anxiety over the fate of the late Archduke Johann Salvador, now plain Capt. John Orth, is increasing in court circles. As it is now 110 days since he left Montevideo on July 11, in command of his ship, Sanct Margrethe, for Valpariaso, where he should have arrived about Aug. 30, it is feared that he has been wrecked. An Austrian cruiser dispatched a month ago in search of the missing vessel has thus far found no trace of her.

Relief for Ireland.

DUBLIN, Oct. 31.—Mr. Balfour has pushed forward the arrangements for the construction of railways in the distressed districts in the west of Ireland. The work of building the roads will furnish employment for a host of laborers besides those living in the districts through which the roads will be built. Men coming from a distance can, if they desire, have a part of their wages remitted free of charge to their families.

Hindoo Marriage Custom.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—A dispatch from Calcutta states that at a largely attended meeting of Hindoos at Madras, resolutions were adopted protesting against proposed British interference with Hindoo marriage customs. The editor of a native paper, who procurred the remarriage of his daughter, a widow, has been driven to despair, and his wife has died, owing to a boycott by his co-religionists.

Cure for Consumption.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—Professor Koch, has perfected his plan for the cure of consumption by inoculation, which he submitted to the recent medical congress and invites expert examination of its modifications. The mode of treatment is said to have received the unqualified approval of many of the leading German physicians, who until very recently scouted the idea.

Missionaries Banished from Russia.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—According to a dispatch from St. Petersburg, the procurator of the holy synod, M. Pobedonostzeff, had advised the czar to banish all foreign missionaries from Russia and to suppress foreign worship, except in the Baltic provinces, where the Lutheran religion is to be barely tolerated.

Emin Pasha Heard From.

ZANZIBAR, Oct. 31.—Letters have been received from the Emin Pasha expedition, stating that all are well and that the expedition is making a steady advance.

LABOR DISPATCHES.

An Important Meeting of Union Railroad Men Called.

SEDALIA, Mo., Oct. 31.—An important union meeting of railroad men employed on the Gould system, and Missouri, Kansas and Texas roads, has been called for Sunday, Nov. 9, in this city. The call is addressed to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, Order of Railroad Conductors, Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Switchmen's Mutual Aid Association of North America.

The Order of Railroad Conductors and Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors are at swords-points, yet both are included in the call, and it is believed an important movement is on foot. The call is in the shape of a circular letter and was mailed last night to the different organizations in the territory traversed by the roads mentioned.

Strike Declared Off.

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—The journeymen freestone cutters of this city who have maintained a strike against the combined contractors and master builders for eight months, during which time they have raised and distributed over $11,000 relief money and have had only seven deserters from the 350 men who went out, met last night and voted to declare the strike off. The cause of the defeat is alleged to be disunited action of the building trades council and the refusal of the carpenters and bricklayers to strike and break up the cutters after pledging their moral support.

Telegraphers Will Not Strike.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—There will be no strike by the Brotherhood of Telegraphers at present. Grand Master Johnson, of Louisville, has issued an order that all members of the order must remain at work. Those who went on a strike at St. Paul and other cities are commanded to return to their employment, and those have been discharged for their connection with the organization are urged to regain, if possible, the situations with the company.

Strike in New South Wales.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Oct. 31.—Three thousand strikers at a meeting yesterday declared in favor of continuing their struggle. The miners of New Castle have delayed resuming work. There was rioting in Adalaide yesterday, caused by unionists molesting non-unionists.

RAILROAD COLLISIONS.

A Switch Engine and a Wild Freight Meet on a Curve.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 31.—A serious collision occurred on the Iowa Central just east of Marshalltown on a curve at 11:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A switch engine, while backing down to the Lumber creek quarry, collided with a wild freight, both running at high speed. The shock was so great that the engine was lifted bodily in the air and alighted squarely on top of the switch engine, both being badly wrecked, as were several freight cars.

William Mosely and Reuben Guillihere, engineers, and William Ralph and William Cook, firemen, were injured by jumping, Mosely and Ralph seriously, the others slightly.

The collision was the result of a mistake by the train dispatcher.

Another on the Southern Pacific.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 31.—The Times Democrat's San Antonio, Tex., special says: At Painted Cave, on the Southern Pacific, 200 miles west of this city, a freight train, last night, collided with a construction train while rounding a curve. Both engines were crippled, several cars smashed to pieces and one or two people are reported killed. The track was cleared of obstructions in a few hours. Foreman Simon Shaw was crushed to death in the wreck.

Collision in a Tunnel.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 31.—There was a damaging freight wreck on the Louisville and Nashville road in a tunnel at Independence, Ky., some fourteen miles from this city at an early hour last night. The reports of the accident are very meager, and little could be obtained of the cause or the nature of the wreck.

Ran on a Sidetrack.

BUFFALO, Oct. 31.—Passenger train No. 4, on the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg railroad, ran onto a siding at Waterport, Orleans county, last night shortly before 10 o'clock into engine No. 56, lying on the siding. Both engines were wrecked, and Engineer Burns and Fireman Cartwright seriously, if not fatally, injured.

Postoffice Robbed.

BUFFALO, Oct. 31.—At 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon George Lammerts, clerk in the Suspension Bridge postoffice, went to the safe to get a supply of stamps for the tray at the stamp window. He was alone in the office, and while getting the stamps he was seized from behind by an unknown party, and a cloth, supposed to be saturated with chloroform, thrown about his head, and he was thrown on the floor, where he was found later. The money order tray is missing, but what the loss is cannot as yet be ascertained.

Found His Dead Body.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 31.—Searchers who were hunting for Capt. William Shackley, of Copicut, who went gunning Tuesday and had not returned, found his body yesterday. He was 70 years old and a large land holder in Copicut, and is thought to have died of apoplexy and exposure.

OHIO STATE NEWS.

Items Gathered Especially for Buckeye Readers.

BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT.

Argument of the Cincinnati Board of City Affairs Case Before That Body. Decision Not Rendered—Other Items of Interest to Buckeye Readers.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 31.—The suit of Reemelin et al. vs. John B. Mosby came before the supreme court on a motion for leave to file a petition in error to the superior court of Cincinnati.

John F. Follett and Judge Peck appeared for the plaintiffs and City Solicitor Horstman and Dranin Wulsin represented the mayor.

Each side consumed thirty minutes in argument, and the court took the case under advisement without giving any intimation as to when a decision might be expected. Nothing new was developed in the argument.

Governor Campbell at Findlay.

FINDLAY, O., Oct. 31.—Governor Campbell addressed a gathering of the Democrats of the Eight congressional district in this city yesterday afternoon. This was the governor's first appearance on the stump since the adjournment of the extraordinary session of the general assembly, and there was much speculation as to whether he would refer to the work of that body in his speech, but he made no mention of state matters, confining his remarks almost wholly to a discussion of the McKinley bill.

Fell from Grace.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 31.—Harry White, a musician, of Pittsburg, was arrested here yesterday charged with intoxication and disturbance. The officers found letters of recommendation signed by W. A. King, general secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, commending him for his excellent record.

Gone to Canada.

BELLAIRE, O., Oct. 31.—Ex-Probate Judge Thomas Cochran, who was arrested several days ago, at Wheeling, W. Va., for the misuse of the mails, and who furnished bond of $1,500, has gone to Canada.

An Engineer Killed.

ALLIANCE, O., Oct. 31.—Peter Sawyer, an engineer on the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad, was killed by being run over by one engine while getting out of the road of another. His home is in Bedford.

Dow Law Violator Locked Up.

LIMA, O., Oct. 31.—George Miller, a saloon keeper at Elida, was fined $50 and costs for violating the Dow law and lodged in the Lima jail in default thereof.

Killed By Cars.

ZANESVILLE, O., Oct. 31.—Michael Frill, aged 50, whose home is at New Lexington, was killed here yesterday by the cars.

A Fatal Mine Accident.

COALTON, O., Oct. 31.—Healey Hawson died here yesterday from injuries received by a fall of coal at the Emma coal mine.

FAILURES.

Three Large New York Firms Make Assignments.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Isidore Rosenthal, doing business at No. 520 Broadway, under the name of Rosenthal & Company, cloak manufacturers, confessed judgment this morning to Amelia Rosenthal for the sum of $38,279.40, to Sophia Chuck for $4,745.58, and to L. Rothstein for $2,015.23. The business is in the hands of the sheriff, but Messrs. Howitz and Fairchilds, the attorneys, will hold a meeting with the creditors, and attempt to reach a settlement. The assets are estimated at $50,000 and the liabilities will exceed $100,000.

A. Springer & Company, wholesale dealers in silk and worsted yarns at No. 458 Broome street, have failed. The failure is attributed to lack of business. The liabilities are said to be about $880,000, and it is thought there are enough assets to pay the judgment creditors.

I. L. Falk & Company, clothing manufacturers at 661 Broadway, have failed, with liabilities of about $280,000. The assets are not given. The firm, until lately, had branches at Savannah, Ga., and Charleston, S. C.

A Bank Failure.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 31.—A St. Augustine special to The Times-Union says that the St. Johns Savings Bank and Real Estate Exchange has suspended payment. Liabilities, $20,000; assets about $5,000. The creditors are mostly residents of St. Johns county. The bank was a private institution, not incorporated.

Fish Dealer Assigns.

HALIFAX, Oct. 31.—John P. Chetwynd, dealer in fish and lobsters, has made an assignment. The failure is attributed to the small catch of lobsters on the Newfoundland coast in consequence of storms. He had been running lobster factories on the coast.

Burned by Molten Metal.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 31.—A large vessel in the converting department of the Bethlehem Iron company, containing molten metal, tilted over yesterday and horribly burned Michael Dugan, who cannot recover. Osborn Crissman, William Sonders, Louis Poyer and Augustus Schmick were seriously burned.

Two Farmers Run Down.

OMAHA, Oct. 31.—A special from Superior, Neb., says: Bert. Shields and Smith Hart, two Kansas farmers, were run down by a Northwestern freight train. Both were badly hurt and will probably die.

MEETING OF WOMEN.

Convention of the Methodist Episcopal Woman's Home Missionary Society.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 31.—The ninth annual convention of the Methodist Episcopal Woman's Home Missionary society of the United States began yesterday in the Delaware Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, about 200 delegates being in attendance. The president, Mrs. John Davis, called the convention to order. She made a feeling address on the work to be done by the delegates.

Mr. F. H. Root, in behalf of the city and of the church, made the address of welcome, and Mrs. E. E. Chambers, in behalf of the women of Buffalo, also extended a welcome to the delegates.

Mrs. Clara L. Roach, of Washington, made the response.

Letters of regret were read from a number of prominent churchmen and also from Mrs. President Harrison, who was prevented from attending by a previous engagement, and from Mrs. John A. Logan to the same effect.

The president then delivered the annual address. She stated that there are now seventy-four district conferences with a membership of 55,000 adults and minors. Since 1881 the amount collected was $387,178.12. The supplies on hand are valued at $157,071.79, which, with $10,000 property in cities, amounts to a total valuation of $554,859.59. She recommended that industrial institutions should be made as far as possible self-sustaining. She suggested that the home should not be neglected. Reference was made to the work in Utah, in opposition to polygamy among the Indians and immigrants. She recommended more attention to evangelization in cities. She spoke of the dead friends of the society, and particularly eulogized Gen. Clinton B. Fisk.

Mrs. R. S. Rush, corresponding secretary, read her annual report. The records of the year showed steady progress. Four new conference organizations had been added; the model home at Marshal, Tex., was nearly completed, and an establishment for the reception of immigrants had been purchased at East Boston. The society has fourteen bureaus for its different work, the secretaries of which will make their reports. In addition to the seventy-four conferences, there are 2,048 auxiliaries. She urged the necessity of the churches and their officers being in active sympathy with the society.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. A. R. Clark, followed. The main figures were stated in the address of the president. Recess was then taken.

At the afternoon session the general executive board presented a series of recommendations which were discussed.

Mrs. H. C. McCabe, editor of Womans' Home Missions, and Miss Mary Belle Evans, publisher of Womans' Home Missions, presented their reports.

The secretaries of the bureau for Mormons and of the bureau for Alaska presented reports.

A Wood Carver Suicides.

CARLSTADT, N. J., Oct. 31.—The dead body of Henry Holtz, a wood carver, was found yesterday hanging to a tree in the woods near here. Holtz had fastened the rope around his neck, then climed the tree, crept out on the overhanging limb, tied the other end of the rope securely to the limb, and jumped off.

A FIENDISH DEED.

An Unknown Man Assaults and Beats to Death a Young Woman.

ATLANTA, Oct. 31.—The news of the brutal murder of a young lady has reached here from Rockmart. The victim is Miss Baker, and her home has been in Stilesboro. The crime was committed about 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. She was alone in a field where she was at work, when she was assaulted and beaten to death.

A heavy club was the weapon used by the murderer, and after completing his bloody work, the mangled body of the dead girl was dragged some distance to a spot near the line of the railroad, where an effort was made to hide the crime by concealing the remains in a brush pile. Suspicion was aroused by the failure of the young lady to return home at her usual hour, and her father started out to the field in search of her.

After some little time his attention was directed to the brush pile, and upon looking closer he found the dead and mangled body of his daughter. The whole county is up in arms and a vigorous search is being made for the perpetrator of the crime. If found a lynching is certain.

Its Trouble With the French Will Come to Issue.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Oct. 31.—Joseph Girardin, captain of the French schooner Mineger, was arrested lately at Codry, a village on the Newfoundland shore, where the French have fishing rights, for insisting on the right to sell goods without paying duties. The Newfoundland authorities seized the schooner, fined the captain $600 and confiscated the cargo.

Pending payment, the captain was imprisoned. Girardin broke jail, and with French aid overpowered the English guard, regained possession of his schooner and went to sea. The sheriff recaptured the vessel and made prisoners of the crew. The government steam cruiser Fiona proceeded yesterday to Codroy with Judge Prowse and a posse of police, and will bring the prisoners here. This will force the Newfoundland-French difficulty to an issue.

He Died All the Same.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 31.—Robert Washington, a colored man of Braddock, aged 23, was instantly killed last night from the effect of an electric shock received by catching hold of a lamp in order to show bravado to his fellow workmen. While standing in the Carnegie blast furnaces, young Washington laughingly said he was not afraid of electricity, and reaching high over his head he grasped an electric lamp. Instantly he fell to the floor dead.

Oysters Become Poisonous.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Dr. William N. Hibbard, a young physician of Hyde Park, died yesterday at his home from a most peculiar case of poisoning. A week ago Dr. Hibbard partook of some oysters at a restaurant. The oysters had been kept so long that they developed a poison known as ptomain, from the effects of which the doctor died yesterday.

A Flurry of Winter.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 31.—Reports from the northern part of the state are to the effect that a heavy snow storm was in progress Wednesday all through the northern row of counties. A heavy snow fall is reported from Eau Claire, Portage and Wausau.

Paint Establishment Burned.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 31.—Townsend Brothers' paint establishment here was destroyed by fire this morning. Loss, $15,000; insurance, $10,000.

The Weather.

Slightly cooler weather; northwesterly winds; cloudiness, with showers and flurries of snow.

A Ray of Hope.

For all who are held by the chains of scrofula or other diseases of the blood comes from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which by imparting the elements of good health and strength to the vital fluid, dissolves the bonds of disease and sets the captive free. No other remedy in existence combines the positive economy, the peculiar merit and the medicinal power of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

IF the McKinley bill increases prices on every thing, what are votes worth just now? Here is a timely business problem.

THE additional article, with further particulars, concerning the sudden departure of Supt. Miller of the Prospect school, is published at the request of substantial Prospect citizens who think the facts ought to all be known. Supt. Miller's seems to be an unfortunate case.

IT seems that our doubt of brother Beebe's actual grief over the sheriff's administration in Morrow county has pained our esteemed Mt. Gilead cotemporary. We thought perhaps Mr. Beebe's unusual anxiety was partially due to weakness that some newspapers have for editing sheriff's sales. It is a bit of newspaper work that is cheerful from a financial view, though the sales themselves are unfortunate. Perhaps the editor of the Register isn't an heir to all the human weaknesses of the craft. If the sheriff in Morrow county has really been charging illegal fees he should be bounced very promptly.

HE APOLOGIZED.

An Episode in the European Tour of an American Gentleman.

Col. James Pepper, of Pepper whisky fame, who has been on a wedding tour in Europe, has sailed with his wife on the Servia for New York, followed by the blessings of many American visitors to London who have stopped at the Hotel Metropole. The employes of this establishment have never been noted for courtesy to American guests, and this has been the case during the present season particularly, as the great influx of transatlantic travelers has made the hotels feel independent. It was reserved for Col. Pepper, however, to introduce discipline.

The colonel and his wife came home from the theatre one night, and Mrs. Pepper at once got into an elevator, while her husband stepped up to the desk for his key. The night clerk, a particularly haughty and pompous person, was talking to an Englishman close to a keyboard, but though Col. Pepper asked him three or four times for the key, the clerk paid not the slightest attention until he had finished his conversation. Pepper took this calmly enough, but when he got into the elevator the Englishman who had been talking to the clerk said: "I beg your pardon, sir, but I think you really ought to know why that clerk was so inattentive. He said to me, when you first asked for your key, 'He's only an American; let him wait.'"

The Colonel's Kentucky blood suddenly rose to the boiling point. He sprang from the elevator and whipped a huge pistol from his pocket.

"Come out from behind that desk," he shouted to the clerk. "Come quick; come a-runnin'."

The clerk came, and he came running likewise, perspiring with terror. His face was ashen, and though he was trying to speak, his lips moved like the jaws of an expiring trout, and no sound came from them. Fifty people in the great corridors rushed up to see what was the matter.

"Get down on your knees," cried Pepper in an awful voice, relapsing into the Kentucky vernacular. "Get down on your knees, or I'll shoot your years off."

The terrified clerk hesitated but a fraction of a second, and came down to his knees on the marble floor.

"Now," cried the Kentuckian, "you apologize to every American that ever staid here for your damned impudence to the people that keep your hotel going. Repeat after me what I say: 'I apologize to all the Americans in London.' Say it quick."

"I apologize to all the Americans in London," stammered the clerk.

"For all my previous incivility," continued the colonel sternly.

"For all my previous incivility," faltered the victim.

"And I hereby solemnly promise to treat all Americans with respect and consideration hereafter. Quick, say it."

The menial obeyed, and Pepper then allowed him to rise and retire behind his desk, the humblest and most crestfallen clerk in any hotel anywhere. Then the colonel showed his pistol to the assembled multitude. "It is one I picked up in a curiosity shop in Paris for a friend who has a collection of ancient firearms," he said, "and it has not been loaded for a hundred years, and the lock is rusted out."

Up to date the Metropole clerk has kept his vow to treat all Americans with respect, and the reverence he manifested when Col. Pepper was about during the remainder of his stay was touching.—New York Sun.

Suicided With Gas.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The dead body of George A. F. Hitt, aged 66 years, was found in his room at Meyer's hotel, No. 15 Broadway, Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon. Hitt committed suicide by inhaling gas through a rubber tube attached to the gas jet. He left a letter requesting that his remains be cremated and stating that he came from the Pacific coast.

Excluded From the Mails.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Oct. 31.—The Leavenworth Times was found to contain a list of prizes raffled for at the Catholic fair Thursday night, and Postmaster Dickey stopped the entire edition from passing through the mails.

TUNNELS OF THE WORLD.

The Allegheny [illegible] tunnel was built in 18[illegible].

The Black Rock tunnel on the Reading railroad, was completed in 18[illegible].

A tunnel 6,[illegible] feet long was driven under Lake Erie from Cleveland, O., for the purpose of obtaining pure water.

The Sand Patch tunnel, on the Pittsburg and Connellsville branch of the [illegible], was completed in 1871.

Cesar found Alexandria honeycombed with subterranean tunnels conveying water from the Nile to the houses of the city.

The St. Gothard tunnel through the Alps was begun in the fall of 1872. Its length is nine and a quarter miles, and its cost some $10,500,000.

The Kingwood and Broadtree tunnels and the Chesapeake and Ohio, and the Great Bend tunnels are specimen pieces of heavy tunneling in the United States.

The Hudson river tunnel is progressing satisfactorily. The daily progress is 5½ feet. The distance already reached is 2,290 feet, the total distance to be covered being 5,600 feet.

The tunnel driven under Lake Michigan to secure pure water for Chicago, begun in March, 1864, was constructed two miles in length to a crib in the lake, inside of which an iron cylinder was sunk.

The new aqueduct from the croton dam to New York city, a distance of 30.03 miles, or including the pipe lines to the Central park reservoir of thirty three miles, is the largest piece of tunneling yet done.

Of subaqueous tunnels the most famous is that under the Thames at London, begun in 1807 and finally completed for foot passengers in 1843; total length, 1,200 feet; cost, $6,000 a lineal yard, or a total of $2,700,000.

The cast iron tunnel under the St. Clair river, connecting Canada with the United States, has recently been completed. The total length is 6,050 feet, of which 2,300 feet is under the river bed. The outside diameter is 21 feet.

The Mount Cenis tunnel was a tremendous engineering work, in which air pumps were worked by hydraulic power, although the work was begun by hand labor in 1857. It was finished in 1871, the total cost having been $15,000,000.

The Hoosac tunnel project was originally considered as far back as 1825. It was not until the Shanly Brothers, of Montreal, in 1868, took the contract that construction was rapidly pushed. They completed their work in December, 1874.

The Roman tunnels served as aqueducts, the one to tap Lake Albano, begun 380 B. C., being 6,000 feet long. On the aqueduct to connect Lake Fucinus with the River Liris 30,000 men were employed for ten years, the work being finished A. D. 52.

The Musconetcong tunnel, on the Lehigh Valley railroad, a specimen of heavy tunneling by means of machine drilling, was begun in 1872 and finished in 1875. Every modern appliance was used, including the Ingersoll drill, the Burleigh compressor and dynamite.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES.

The German army is going to restore the old type sword bayonet in place of the dagger bayonet now in use.

Cavalry swimming exercises formed an interesting and instructive feature in recent army manoeuvres in Hungary.

Straw and oats have been found preferable to hay for French cavalry horses; they sweat less and bear fatigue much better.

The army proposes to experiment with a segmental gun in competition with the wire wound gun now being made by the ordnance department.

The slow speed of the Charleston during her recent trip in the Pacific was found necessary in order to insure her coal supply holding out.

The complete harbor defense project propose armaments of the heaviest rifled guns, a well developed system of submarine mines, with a protection of rapid fire guns.

In accordance with the request of the secretary of the treasury, disbursing officers of the quartermasters' subsistence and pay departments of the army have been instructed to render monthly money accounts.

The Fiske range finder will be given a set of trials at the Washington navy yard, at which Commodore Folger will probably be present. The new telephonic attachment is thought to be the only thing that was required to perfect the system.

M. Eiffel has invented a form of bridge capable of being used in time of war for temporary service, as well as for permanent use in peace times. It is composed wholly of pieces of steel that can easily be put together without machinery and by unskilled labor.

The clause in the army bill providing for examinations before promotion also provides for the retirement of those incapacitated for service. There are already sixty or more invalided officers, and if the law can be construed to embrace them promotions in the army will for a time proceed at an unusually rapid rate.

It is said that the need of a [illegible] for the proper government of the trotting associations in the United States was never more patent than at the present time.

L. A. Hardin, of Clarksville, Tenn., has purchased from J. B. Perry, of Lexington, Ky., for $5,000 the 4-year-old bay mare Lydia Wilkes, by Red Wilkes, dam Aileen, by Mambrino Patchen.

William Disston, of Woodstown, N. J., has placed his young stallion Bentonian, by Gen. Benton, dam [illegible], in the hands of Charles Marvin for development, and he is now a companion of Sunol and Palo Alto.

It is stated that the new Saratoga management will offer special inducements for record breakers next year, giving $500 extra when a record is broken in a purse race, and $1,000 when such an occurrence takes place in connection with a stake race.

Recently a pair of carriage horses were purchased in Montreal for $800 and shipped to a gentleman who resides a few hundred miles from Montreal. When the car was opened both horses were found dead from suffocation. Another strong hint to careless shippers.

An Australian horseman thinks more attention should be paid to breeding jockeys. He says the cross should be sire Irish, dam English to stay, and Jew for cunning. All the daredevil riders are Irish, the English are bulldogs for hanging on, and providence favors the Jews.

Those three good handicap horses, Roanoke, Buddhist and Prince Royal, are all lame. In Prince Royal's case the consequences may be serious, but it is probable that Roanoke and Buddhist will soon again be seen at the post. They strained themselves running in the mud at Gravesend.

Capt. Brown, of Pittsburg, has not reconsidered his determination to sell out all his racing stock. The date has not yet been fixed upon and very likely will not be until after the Elizabeth and Linden meeting. Reporter, Buddhist, Long Run, Jennie R. and Senorita are among the lot that will go.

August Belmont makes no concealment of his regard for Hamilton, the jockey who has won him so many rich stakes. Mr. Belmont's presents after the Futurity to Hamilton, Bergen and Trainer Rowe were munificent. When Raceland won the Suburban for Mr. Belmont he divided the stake, $11,000, between Trainer Rowe and Jockey Garrison.

It is rumored in Philadelphia that another race track will soon be laid out in that vicinity that may compare favorably with the larger and more popular tracks at the north. The site is that of Lincoln park, on the Jersey shore, six or seven miles south of the Quaker city. The track will be a mile, and figures like $750,000 are reported to be its probable cost, buildings and all.

BELLS OF THE WORLD.

The bell in St. Peter's, at Rome, weighs 17,500 pounds.

The bell of St. Paul's, in London, weighs 11,500 pounds.

At Rouen, France, is a bell which weighs 86,000 pounds.

There is a bell in Vienna which weighs 40,000 pounds.

"Great Tom," at Oxford, England, weighs 17,000 pounds.

The "Jacqueline," of Paris, cast in 1400 weighs 1,500 pounds.

"Great Tom," at Lincoln, England, weighs 12,400 pounds.

The bell which hangs in Notre Dame, Paris, weighs 25,000 pounds.

In Nankin there is a bell, now fallen to the ground, weighing 50,000 pounds.

The largest bell in England is the Westminster bell, "Big Ben," weighing 30,000 pounds.

The largest bell on the American continent is at Montreal, in the cathedral, and weighs 25,000 pounds.

The Independence hall bell at Boston was cast in 1876 at the Meneely foundry and weighs 13,000 pounds.

The "great bell of China," in Pekin, weighs 120,000 pounds, is 14 feet in height and 12 feet in diameter.

There is a monstrous bell in the cathedral at Moscow weighing 120,000 pounds. It is rung three times a year, when all the other bells are silent. Its sound is like the roaring of distant thunder.

The famous "Liberty bell," of Philadelphia, was cast in 1751. It was subsequently broken when ringing a fire alarm. It is now suspended by a chain of thirteen links from the ceiling in the hall of the State house in Philadelphia.

The most famous bell in the world is the "great bell of Moscow," or Czar Kolokol, emperor of bells. Its weight is about 440,000 pounds, and its cost in simple bell material is estimated at about $350,000, to which, it is said, $1,000,000 was added in precious jewels, plates, etc., by the nobles at the time of casting.

Exhumation of a Famous Composer.

The remains of Johann Christoph Gluck, the great composer, were exhumed at the Matzleinsdorf cemetery, Vienna, where they had rested since 1787, and reinterred at the Central cemetery, in the Musicians' corner, near those of Beethoven and Schubert, and close to the Mozart monument. The grave was in a disgraceful state. The gravestone had fallen in and was overgrown with weeds; the gravestone had disappeared, and only an oblong bearing Gluck's name marked the spot. The workmen had some difficulty in clearing away the roots and shrubs.

The first thing brought up was a portion of a rotten wooden coffin, followed by fragments of bones—such as portions of the skull, a collar bone, arm bones, the under jaw, with three teeth, a double tooth, one or two ribs, and finally some flowing brown hair, probably from a periwig. The earth was sifted for an hour, and as nothing more could be found a wooden case was filled with the remains and placed in a handsome metal coffin, over which the Vienna Men's Amateur choir afterward sang selections from Gluck's Vienna operas, performing in his honor his "Armida."—St. James' Gazette.

A Promising Western Industry.

The sugar beet factory at Grand Island, Neb., began operations recently, and manufactured over 200 barrels of refined sugar, ready for market, during the first twenty-four hours it was in operation. The statement is made that it is the largest and most complete beet sugar factory in the world. The long drought cut the crop of beets short, therefore the new factory will only have supplies for a ninety day run. This is an enterprise of wonderful interest to the farmers of the great grain raising states.

If sugar beet raising proves successful the manufacture of our own sugar will be of inestimable benefit to all the people of the nation. When our shops and factories can consume all the farm products the days of depression and over production are past, and farming will be prosperous at all times.

The Grand Island mill has a capacity of 350 tons of beets per day, which yield 250 barrels of sugar. Every particle of the beet is saved, cattle being fed on the refuse, and chewing gum being made of certain parts that are left over.—Iowa State Register.

A few days ago John Benzley, a well known sporting man, appeared at the Four Courts and complained to the police that he had been robbed of a diamond stud valued at $500, for the recovery of which he would give $100. He stated that he was in company with a man named Fuerst, alias Forrest, and that when he awoke next morning his diamond was gone. As the screw part still remained in his shirt he came to the conclusion that it could not have been lost, consequently the thief must have embraced him and bitten the diamond out of the setting.

Hardly had Mr. Benzley reported his robbery when Nettie May complained to the police that she had had bitten out of her ear a diamond earring valued at $250. She said that she was in company with Fuerst. While they were in the house he placed his arms around her neck and hugged and kissed her. After his departure she discovered the loss of one of her diamond earrings, although the setting still remained in her ear, the thief having bitten the diamond out.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

An Aroostook Product.

The annual "potato raid" is in progress in Aroostook, Me., as the starch factories are beginning their season's work. This is one of the most novel sights to be witnessed in this section of the country—the long line of teams hauling the potatoes to the factories and waiting their turn to unload. There is a great crop in Aroostook this year, the largest for many years, in fact, and there will be a good supply for the factories, as the latter are paying very good prices. There are about forty factories in Aroostook county and on its border, and as they use upward of two million bushels yearly, it is seen that potato raising and starch making in Aroostook are industries of considerable magnitude.—Cor. Boston Transcript.

A Black Hills Nugget.

In removing the sand from the gold a piece of the original nugget was broken off. The two pieces, one weighing 34 pennyweights 6 grains, the other 15 pennyweights, are on exhibition at the Deadwood National bank. THE ARIZONA KICKER.

Extracts Culled by The Detroit Free Press from Its Latest Issue.

WE TOLD YOU SO.—Six weeks ago a man named Scott opened a grocery store on Cottonwood street, and when we casually dropped in and mentioned the fact that The Kicker was the best advertising medium in the west, he got mad. We knew there was something crooked about him, and we sent his description to sixty-four sheriffs and chiefs of police who are constantly in communication with us.

Last week, just after we had gone to press, a sheriff arrived from [illegible] and collared Mr. Scott, who is a defaulting county treasurer. He was taken off, and we bought the stock of groceries at about twenty-two cents on the dollar. Had Mr. Scott advertised he would have been able to have kept up a large and profitable business, but he took a wrong view of it, and will probably go to state prison for fifteen or twenty years.

POOR OLD PALSY.—We never refer to our contemporary down the street if we can avoid it. In the first place, he hasn't got enough brains or ability to deserve the title, and in the next he is a poor, palsied old man who is gradually dying of envy and starvation, and we shall have to foot his burial expenses when he does go. The other week we mentioned our private graveyard and its five occupants. This so excited the jealousy of the old relic of the Seventeenth century that he borrowed a revolver and took a trip around town yesterday in search of blood. He finally found one of Col. McCracken's Digger Indians asleep in the sun, and opened fire on him from a distance of four feet. He didn't even wake the red man up, and Judge Talman, who objected to so much noise around his house, went out and drove poor old palsy away with a broom.

We are sorry for him. They say he cried while going back to his office, or alleged newspaper, and no wonder. He should never have come west. He came, as we ascertained, to evade arrest for bigamy, but he should have taken some other route. When nature fits a man to raise hollyhocks in New Jersey he has no business coming west to try to raise that other product.

NOT HIS FAULT.—A number of our townspeople have expressed the hope that we would pitch into Dr. Stagiern, the popular druggist, for killing old man Slew by putting up arsenic for quinine in a prescription. We shall do nothing of the sort. The doctor has not only increased his advertising one-half this week, but has subscribed for five copies of The Kicker to send away. While this, of course, does not influence us in the least, we know from personal observation that the doctor is a very busy man, and that the room in his store is limited. He has no choice but to keep many different sorts of powders in the same drawer, and it is only to be expected that a mistake should happen now and then.

Furthermore, who was old Slew, anyhow? A lazy, dissipated vagabond, whom the boys would have hung in the course of a few weeks at best. In footing his funeral expenses the doctor has shown himself very liberal and fair minded, and he has shown himself in various ways to belong to that class wanted in this town to build it up.

NO EXTRA CHARGE.—In this issue we publish the full particulars of two executions, one jail delivery, three shooting affrays, one highway robbery, two fist fights, three dog fights, one found dead, a drowning accident, the arrest of a road agent, the deaths of two Mexicans in the late blizzard and the stealing of Judge Sprout's four mule team.

The thing down the street which calls itself a newspaper, and talks about its lightning press and wild eyed corps of editors from New York, has, to match all this, a cooked up account of a fight between a jackass rabbit and a government camel, with its editor for the sole spectator and reporter. Is it any wonder that the people of Arizona can't wait for The Kicker to be issued each week, and that dozens of them roost on our doorsteps all night Wednesday night to get copies the first thing Thursday morning? All this and no extra charge, and no handbills out announcing that anything unusual was going on!—Detroit Free Press.

He Was Well Supplied.

We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to directions and the use persisted in, will bring you good digestion and oust the demon dyspepsia and install instead eupepsy. We recommend Electric Bitters for dyspepsia and all diseases of liver, stomach and kidneys. Sold at 50c and $1.00 per bottle at Flocken's drug store.

She Sweetly Requested.

There were seven men standing on the rear platform of a Grand avenue car, and every one of them was smoking, when a woman signaled the conductor to stop. He held the door open, but she stood and surveyed the crowd for a moment, and as no one moved she sweetly requested:

"Conductor, won't you please knock out one side of the car, so that I can get out without disturbing these gentlemen?"—Detroit Free Press.

Endorsement of a Leading Physician.

"I have used Darby's Prophylactic Fluid extensively as a disinfectant and deodorizer, and find it an admirable preparation. Wherever there are offensive discharges from wounds, abscesses, etc., it is wonderful in its action. I consider it the best preparation I know as a gargle in diphtheria or scarlet fever."

J. CRESWELL LEWIS, M. D., Phila.

No Novelty.

She kissed him as he gave her the engagement ring.

"George, darling, I have always longed for one of this pattern and you are the first who loved me sufficiently to study my tastes in the matter."

"And yet," replied he, [illegible], "it is no rarity, as in my engagements I have never used anything else."—Philadelphia Times.

An Invariable Symptom.

Quizz (fishing for sympathy)—Do you suffer with neuralgia?

Fizz (emphatically)—Always, when I have it.—Lowell Citizen.

The Greatest Strike.

Among the great strikes that of Dr Miles in discovering his New Heart Cure has proven itself to be one of the most important. The demand for it has become astonishing. Already the treatment of heart disease is being revolutionized, and many unexpected cures effected. It soon relieves short breath, fluttering, pains in side, arm, shoulder, weak and hungry spells, oppression, swelling of ankles, smothering and heart dropsy. Dr Miles' book on Heart and Nervous Diseases, free. The unequaled New Heart Cure is sold and guaranteed by Denison & Co.'s and Hoberman & Co.'s, also his Restorative Nervine for headache, fits, sprees, hot flashes, nervous chills, opium habit, etc.

Full Fare for the Corpse.

On a train from Aurora to Chicago the other day a strange incident occurred. A poor man, accompanied by three children, was bringing the corpse of his wife to the city. He was provided with a ten-trip ticket, and said he had been told by the station authorities at Aurora that the fare for himself and children and the body of the wife could be punched from the trip ticket. The conductor insisted upon full fare for the corpse, and intimated that if he did not get it he would have to put the body off." A disinterested passenger thought the man had sufficient sorrow without being compelled to argue with the conductor, and paid the fare.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at Flocken's drug store, regular size, 50c and $1.00.

Scrofula

Is the most ancient and most general of all diseases. Scarcely a family is entirely free from it, while thousands everywhere are its suffering slaves. Hood's Sarsaparilla has had remarkable success in curing every form of scrofula. The most severe and painful running sores, swellings in the neck or goitre, humor in the eyes, causing partial or total blindness, yield to the powerful effects of this medicine. It thoroughly removes every impurity from the blood.

Scrofula

"My little daughter's life was saved, as we believe, by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before she was six months old she had 7 running scrofula sores. One physician advised the amputation of one of her fingers, to which we refused assent. When we began giving her Hood's Sarsaparilla, a marked improvement was noticed and by a continued use of it her recovery was complete. And she is now, being seven years old, strong and healthy." B. C. JONES, Alna, Lincoln County, Me.

REEMELIN DEFEATED

The Supreme Court Decides Against Him.

The New Board Sworn In

[Special to DAILY STAR.]

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 31.—In the case of Louis Reemelin, et al., against John B. Mosby, mayor of Cincinnati, the supreme court at Columbus decided against plaintiff today. The members of the new Board of City Affairs of this city have already been sworn in.

Bob Allen's Marriage.

A Paulding special to the Ohio State Journal contains the following account of the marriage of Robert Allen Thursday evening: "One of the most brilliant weddings that ever took place in Northwestern Ohio occurred at First Presbyterian church in this city Thursday evening. The contracting parties were Mr. Robert G. Allen and Miss Estelle Blizard of this city. The church was beautifully decorated with rare floral displays. Miss Blizard is a highly educated and accomplished young lady and of one of our best families and Mr. Allen is the son of E. G. Allen, of Marion, O., and is well-known to the baseball profession, having been the efficient shortstop of the Philadelphia league club during the season just closed. They will make their home in this city."

We learn that Mr. and Mrs. Allen left the same evening for VanWert, O., and from there left for the East, to spend a couple weeks visiting at Washington, Boston, Philadelphia, New York and Pittsburg.

The Unhappiness That Resulted from a Laundry Custom.

"No good luck stirring but lights on my shoulders," said Horace McVicker the other day. "Frank Goodwin, manager of Clara Morris, is an old friend of mine, so when he came to town for a two weeks' stay I asked him to come down and stop at my house. He did, and the second day he was there dug out about $4 worth of laundry work, which had been accumulating as he traveled, and asked my wife if he could have it done in the neighborhood. She—building more wisely than she knew—told him she would send it to the laundry with my own bundle, and did it. The result was that eight shirts and a lot of underwear and handkerchiefs, and collars and cuffs, and socks and night robes came back with my full name on them in indelible ink. My wife sorted Goodwin's clothes out and put them aside for him and then told me of the error of the laundry folks in putting my name on Goodwin's togs.

"This gave me an idea, and the next day when Goodwin and I were standing in a crowd of fellows at the theatre I saw a handkerchief sticking out of his side pocket and said:

"'That looks like one of my wife's, Frank!'

"Then I pulled it out and looked it over and showed him my name on it. I didn't reproach him. I just gave him a significant look and tucked the handkerchief in my pocket while everybody gave poor Goodwin the laugh. He blushed and told me afterward that he didn't think it was treating him right to give him that sort of a deal before folks.

"Next day he was on the stage during a rehearsal, and I put Miss Morris up to ask him for his handkerchief, which she did in an off hand way during some stage business. Frank promptly complied, and Miss Morris looked at the handkerchief a moment afterward and said:

"'This seems to be yours, Mr. McVicker.'

"I took it, located my name in the corner, walked over to Goodwin and showed it to him, and stuck it in my pocket, and walked away without a word, but with expressive looks and 'business' of pained disgust. Then the company laughed at Goodwin, and he fled.

"That same evening I was with Goodwin and another friend in a candy store, and as Goodwin took out his handkerchief to wipe his lips after a drink of soda water I gave my friend the cue, and he caught Goodwin's hand and the handkerchief and said:

"'Hello! Are you living with Horace?'

"Goodwin said he was, and wanted to know why.

"'I see his name on your handkerchief—that's all,' he said, and laughed.

"At this I grabbed the handkerchief, looked it over, located my name, pointed it out to Goodwin, and jammed it in my pocket. Then I fell to wagging my head ominously and pulling at my mustache agitatedly.

"'Upon my word,' said Goodwin, who was greatly embarrassed, 'I didn't know anything about it. Really, I had no intention'——

"'I don't want to talk about it,' said I, hotly. 'Only when we get home I want to look over your linen. I don't mind accommodating a friend, but I do object to being worked.'

"One or two friends had dropped in meanwhile, and they joined in the general grin at Goodwin.

"That night when we reached home I pretended to have forgotten all about it, but Goodwin hadn't, and, going to his room, he dragged out his laundered clothes and looked them over. Then he bounced into the sitting room where I sat and said:

"'Gimme back my handkerchiefs. Every blessed piece of linen I've got has your name on it. The laundry folks did it, and I've been yielding up handkerchiefs to you at every jump. Give up!'

"I gave him a gleeful laugh and fled. And now he refuses to eat at the same table with me."—Chicago Mail.

Leather.

"There's a lot of money in leather."

"Is there, now?"

"Yes; purses are made of leather, ain't they?"

"Oh, I see! It's great as a fertilizer, too."

"A fertilizer?"

"Certainly."

"Why! what can you raise with leather?"

"Welts!"—Chicago Ledger.

WHAT I CARRY! WHAT I CARRY!

I CARRY A line of Fall and Winter Overcoats which is the acme of perfection, looked at from any point of view you will. What I have not got isn't worth looking for—in quantity, hundreds; in quality, everything that's at all reliable; in styles, the latest only: in linings, the good, old-fashioned farmers' satin, the serviceable serge, the silk and satin lined throughout; foreign fabrics and domestic fabrics—the best of each. I have the long roll, the English box, the London top and coats of genuine American cut, which take no back seat in style. From $2 to $25 is a long distance in price, and all along the line I'll show you genuine values and stylish garments.

I CARRY A line of Men's Suits, in which no one can fail to be suited. It's an assortment from which I will guarantee to please both the head and the pocket-book. I ask your attention to to the medium-priced line of suits that I am selling at $8, $10 and $12. Don't go by price. 'Twill be a revelation to many when they see the amount of genuine style and good material crowded into one of my medium-priced suits.

I CARRY The largest and finest stock of Boys' and Children's Clothing I have ever offered. It would take a good sized store by itself to hold the enormous quantity I have collected for you to choose from. The designs are beautiful; choice novelties by the score, or, if you are looking for plain, serviceable goods at a low price, I can suit you. I say this with confidence, for the stock contains everything at every price.

I CARRY A mammoth stock of Hats, in which you will find any makers' block that's your favorite, at considerable less than hatters' prices. Latest styles of Dunlap, Millar and Youman. Prices, from 45c to $4.

I CARRY A Gents' Furnishing Department, complete in every detail and without a rival in the state. I devote a very large space to this department, carry an immense stock and make prices which I know (from actual comparison) are not and can not be met. Underwear, Neckwear, Hosiery are here in an endless variety. Call and be convinced.

AN HENPECKED HUSBAND

Flees a Second Time from the Dogged Subserviency of an Irascible Wife.

PROSPECT, O., Oct. 31.—A breezy sensation was created in the little village of Prospect last Monday morning when it became generally known that the superintendent of the public schools, Prof J. J. Miller, had skipped for parts unknown.

His wife and a few intimate friends knew he had left Saturday evening but kept the matter quiet, thinking he might turn up for duty at the proper time Monday morning, however, several of his friends received letters from him dated Saturday evening, stating that he would no longer endure the tyranny of his wife and took this means of forever ridding himself of her. Some seven or eight years ago Prof. Miller was married to a Miss Allie Miess, of Uniontown, Stark county. The couple lived two or three years when they separated under circumstances similar to those of the present. Two years ago the Professor secured the superintendency of the Prospect schools, under whose management they never prospered better. During the last summer vacation his wife learned of his whereabouts and followed him thither where he was induced by her fair promises and the advice of his friends to again take up the marriage relations and begin life anew. It soon became apparent to all who could see that this scheme was a failure as the old spirit in Mrs. Miller which had until now only been sleeping, was awakened to renewed energies. She openly declared war on numerous occasions. It seemed to be her special delight to humiliate the professor in the presence of his friends and no occasion for acquiring fame in this direction was allowed to escape her. A short time previous to their reunion the Professor joined the Masonic order and this was to Mrs. Miller an unpardonable breach and a great source of annoyance. She recently forbade him attending the lodge under penalty of "kicking down the doors of the temple."

The Professor being a very sensitive man, such insane conduct was extremely humiliating and its frequent occurrence resulted in his departure. Mrs. Miller fearing the criticism from the public which would naturally ensue the facts when be made known, left for her home Sunday evening. The Professor leaves a host of sympathizing friends and no enemies. He is favorably known in Northern Ohio as an excellent educator and is extensively known in Ohio and adjoining states as an institute worker in his special line. He was on the eve of putting out a book on theory of school work which is pronounced by critics as excellent and which would have undoubtedly been a credit to the author as well as a great source of revenue. Prospect has lost one of its most valuable citizens, and an exasperating and insane woman has got left.

WARRANTING and FITTING every pair of Kid Gloves to the hand. "How do you like them?" "Oh, They suit exactly." This is the exclamation of every customer. They are more than satisfied when they see our large assortment and have them fitted to their hands. Please remember, this is the only place in Marion county where Kid Gloves are warranted and fitted to the hand.

Our Cloak Sales are Beyond Expectations!

The large assortment and low prices are what does it. Our stock is entirely new—no old goods to put on innocent customers at fabulous prices. Our prices are the lowest, away below the old-time credit system. We are showing a full line of Plush Sacques, in all sizes, full lengths and quilted satin linings. Plush guaranteed to wear, at from $12 85 up to the best Plushes the market affords. In the better goods the linings are equal to the best Seal Skin Linings, all at a bona fide saving of from $3 to $15 on a garment. Our terms are cash and one-price, and our goods are marked at cash prices. In Jackets we have all the novelties of the season, very sightly garments at $2 25, $2 75 and $3.25. Our $4.75, $5, $8 and $10 Jackets are beyond a doubt the finest ever displayed in the county. See our better goods. It will pay you to call on the Only Cash and One-Priced Dry Goods House in Marion. We keep no books—sell goods too close for that. Our low prices is what keeps our store full of customers. Ours is the White Front in the MASONIC BLOCK.
